

DR. GALT GREETSS YELLOW SHOPPERS WITH QUIET SMILE

President's Fiancee Gracefully
Acknowledges the Admiration Shown Her.

Hundreds of New York women chase to-day for expeditions to the Fifth Avenue shops because they know Mrs. Norman Galt, the beautiful woman who is to marry President Wilson in Christmas week, would be occupied likewise. Many of them were not disappointed in their hope of getting a glimpse of her.

The question asked by the shoppers after a casual inquiry as to goods desired was nearly always: "Can you tell me if Mrs. Galt, the President's fiancee, is here or has been here?"

Happy were those for whom the answer was a discreet nod in the direction of a graceful woman in a blue serge walking suit and a simple blue scarf turban, making purchases with the assistance of her niece, Miss A. E. Gordon and President Wilson's cousin, Miss Helen Woodrow Bones. Mrs. Galt did not pretend to be unconscious of the curiosity and admiration of those who watched her. She smiled with quiet acknowledgment when her eyes met those of any one in the multitude observing her.

An effort was made to-day, successfully, to avoid the crowd gathered at the entrance of the St. Regis, where Mrs. Galt and her friends breakfasted early in their apartment. They slipped out of a side entrance, were helped quickly by Secret Service Agent Jarvis into a big automobile which Mrs. Galt has engaged for her stay here. The car slipped swiftly to Madison Avenue and then through Fifty-fourth Street back into Fifth Avenue where, until she was sighted, Mrs. Galt was not singled out from among the other occupants of automobiles on the avenue.

In the first shop visited, at Thirty-sixth Street and Fifth Avenue, Mrs. Galt spent two hours being fitted for several gowns. She was the centre of attention in the store and a dozen saleswomen were kept hurrying about while she was making her selections. She also tried on several hats.

Miss Bones and Miss Gordon, who accompanied her and who were expected to be bridesmaids at the wedding, also ordered several gowns. The party then went to another place, where another hour was spent. Mrs. Galt then went back to the St. Regis for lunch.

ARRESTED ON BROADWAY FOR THEFT OF $262,000

Harry Hartley Accused By George
Musta of Taking Contracts Worth
$200,000 and $62,000 in Cash.

Charged with the theft of $262,000 in negotiable contracts and $62,000 in cash, Harry Hartley, whose home is in Wilkesburg, Pa., was arrested to-day at Broadway and Fifty-seventh Street by Detectives Pico and Rusillo. The arrest was made after the receipt at Police Headquarters of a telegram from the Chief of Police of Pittsburgh. The complainant against Hartley is George Musta, who, after the prisoner was taken to the Second Branch Detective Bureau in East Thirty-seventh Street, accompanied the Detective and Hartley to Yorkville Police Court, where the arraignment was made. Musta is connected with the Musta Machinery Company of Pittsburgh.

ELECTION FATAL TO HIM.

"Hurrah for Tammany!" cried William Duffy, an Irish worker, early this morning as he returned home from celebrating the result of the election. As he stood on the third floor landing of the apartment at No. 528 Eighth Avenue, he saw his fiancee and fell over the railing to the first floor, breaking his neck. He was dead when other occupants of the house reached him.

Women Workers Seek End of War. WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—Mrs. May Wright Sewall, Indianapolis, representing the Conference of the International Women Workers to promote permanent peace, to-day presented to President Wilson a resolution adopted in San Francisco declaring women of all nationalities throughout the world to be the great European war stopped.

BEAUTIFUL HAIR THICK, WAVY, FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Draw a moist cloth through hair and double its beauty at once.

Save your hair! Dandruff disappears and hair
stops coming out.

Immediate!—Yes! Certain!—that's the joy of it. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after an application of Danderrine. Also try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderrine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dirt, dandruff, etc., and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderrine dissolves every particle of dandruff, cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—growing out really new hair, growing all over the scalp. Danderrine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful. You can surely have pretty, charming, lustrous hair, and lots of it, if you will just get a 25-cent bottle of Knott's Danderrine from any drug store or toilet counter and try it as directed.—A. L. V.

The May Manton Fashions

PLAITS make such an interesting and important feature of fashions that this costume makes an especial appeal. The coat is a very new one, with belt at sides only, and the skirt was its plaited side portions and plain panels at front and back harmonizes with it to a nicety. Here the suit is made of Scotch frieze and there is just a little edging of fur used for collar and cuffs, but materials are many and almost every suiting of the season can be utilized. The new velveteens are much liked and are exceedingly pliable and would make up most attractively in this way; broadcloth makes a charming suit; wool velours are greatly in vogue and the list might be continued almost indefinitely. As shown here, the collar of the coat is turned up about the throat, and that feature is one of the most notable of the winter fashions, but there will be days when it would be over warm and it is a comfort to know that the collar can be turned down with equally good effect. The plain front and back of the skirt are extended to form a yoke, the plaited portions terminating at the hip line. Both patterns are simple, both garments are easy to make and the suit is one of the smartest that could be offered.

For the 16 year size the coat will require 3 yards of material 36 inches wide, 2 1/2 yards 44, 2 1/2 yards 54 inches wide, with 1 1/2 yards of fur edging. For the skirt will be needed 5 1/2 yards 36 inches wide, 4 1/2 yards 44, 3 1/2 yards 54 inches wide. Both the coat pattern, No. 8832, and the skirt pattern, No. 8728, are cut in sizes for 16 and 18 years.

No. 8832—(With Basting Line and Added Seam Allowance.) Coat With Plaited Sides and Small Women, 16 and 18 years.
No. 8728—(With Basting Line and Added Seam Allowance.) Skirt With Plaited Sides for Misses and Small Women, 16 and 18 years.
